A week in the Seychelles with Luxuryholidaysdirect.com

worth
£9,000

The soft, sandy shores and warm tranquil waters of the Indian Ocean would have you believe that the Seychelles are somewhere close to heaven. In fact, they're scattered off the coast of Africa, where all 115 islands bask in the glow of year-round sunshine, with gentle breezes coming in from the sea. The Sunday Times Travel Magazine and Luxuryholidaysdirect.com are giving you the chance to win a seven-night, half-board holiday at Labriz, a beach hideaway on mountainous Silhouette Island.

Sandwiched between a bone-white beach and the tropical forest of Mount Dauban, this five-star resort offers guests an idyllic escape. The winner and a friend will stay in an Ocean Pavilion, which comes with its own pool set in a private garden and circular bathtubs. The prize also includes Air Seychelles flights, and you'll each enjoy a 30-minute treatment in the Aquum Spa, which is tucked among rose-coloured granite boulders on the jungle slopes, with unrivalled views across the Indian Ocean.

Labriz has extensive facilities, but if your lust for adventure stretches beyond the infinity pool, tennis courts, diving school or gym, you can explore the island's exotic wilderness on a nature trail or mountain trek led by expert guides. The jungle is home to rare orchids as well as several endemic animal species, including the sheath-tailed bat. You can also visit Silhouette's giant-tortoise sanctuary.
